

Click the links for the Rules, Victory Track, Policymakers, and the Docket Deck. Right-click the National Status Board and save the image.

Print the Victory Track, Policymakers, Docket Deck, and the National Status Board.

Read the rules.

Cut the Policymakers and Docket Deck according to the instructions in the rules.

Play the game!

Please keep the following questions in mind:

- Are players put in conflict with each other?
- Can the game be taught in a classroom setting? If so, what teaching strategies would you consider? If not, what challenges do you foresee?
- Could the game be served by an event deck of some kind with cards that would affect National Status, the Policy Values of future bills, etc?
- Is the game educational? What could be added to the experience (e.g. flavor text on bill cards, historical information) to make it more educational?

Post any comments you may have to the site or contact me directly at smith.samuelR@gmail.com

Again, thank you so much.